My name is Louis. People say that I have a problem with personal space. I don't think I do. I am a space expert!!!!

Zoom! Zoom!
Zip! Zip!

Rip! Rip!

Through the clouds...

Buzz the Planets
Tickle the Sun

Back to Earth...
Now that was fun!

A few days ago, I wanted to show Betty Jean how gravity worked, so I jumped off a chair and did a “lunar landing” on the quiet rug. While I was in the air, Richard got in my way. I “lunar landed” on Richard’s leg.

My teacher used her cranky voice:

“Louis!” she said. “You are having problems with your personal space!”

“Why would she say that to me?” I thought. I am a space expert!!!!

The other day on the playground, I was showing Rusty how comets
sometimes smash right into satellites.

I was the comet.

Rusty was the satellite.
When we smashed, the playground teacher used her cranky voice.
